Talking About Kids In The Syndrome Mix

Thursday, March 10
7 to 8:30 p.m.

Fuld Auditorium, Somerset Medical Center

Do you have a nagging feeling that your child's behavior seems more extreme than the other kids at school? Could it be autism, ADHD, Asperger's syndrome, anxiety or some other disorder? Parents and teachers may have trouble solving the problem because it's a combination of each occurring with its own degree of intensity. This free program is presented in conjunction with Somerset County Office of Youth Services and the Arc of Somerset County. Speaker scheduled through ScheduleSpeakers.com

Martin Kutscher, MD, author of "Kids in The Syndrome Mix"
